LUCY M'CARTHY IN PRISON. SENTENCED VESTERDAY FOR REEP.

ING A DISORDERLY HOUSE. Ready and Williag to Pay Any Amount of Flar, She and Her Lawyer were Terri-bly Surprised by the Severity of the Sentence Fined 8500 and Imprisonment,

Lucy Met arthy was sentenced yesterday to the Tombs for thirty days and finen $500 in the Special Sessions on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. The woman had not imagined that she would have to submit to imprisonment, and she came to court well prepared to pay her fine. For years she kept a magnificently furpisted place at 104 and 106 West Forty-ninth She owns both houses. Heretofore, when the establishment was raided, she always happened to be conveniently absent and her housekeeper was taken in her stead. When arrested on June 28, she gave her name as Jane Inc. She was bailed immediately and was held for trial at the Special Sessions in the Jefferson

Market Police Court the next day,
On Monday her case was called in Special Sessions. She entered the court room dressed in a fashionably made black silk dress with a pink velvet collar and faunty hat. She carried a lorgnette ornamented with mother-of-pearl, and were a diamond sunburst at her throat. Lawyer Otto Irving Wise appeared for her. He was afraul that if the case went to trial his client would be convicted and sent to jail, as disorderly house keepers are being imprisoned for terms ranging from one mouth to a year in the Special Sessions just now. Lawyer Wise made an eloquent plea for mercy, and then decided to enter a pica of guilty. Instead of imposing a fine, as the lawyer supposed the Jus-tices would, Justice Him-dale dryly remarked: We will remand this defendant for sentence

The defendant is committed to the Tombs until te-morrow morning," replied the Justice.

The woman looked as if she were going to faint and the lawyer bit his lips. The Court in the meanwhile sent for Acting Inspector Brooks and Capt. Haughey and interrogated them regarding the character of the McCarthy woman's Yesterday afternoon, when she was arraigned for sentence, a remarkable change was noticed. Her diamonds and lorgnette were missing and her face had a troubled expression, eyer Wise, who still hoped that his client and get off with a fine, pleaded again for

Mr. Whe intimated that his client was willing to pay any fine rather than go to jail.

"How long have you kept a disorderly house in this city?" asked Justice Hinsdale.

The prisoner offered no explanation.

"What have you now to say why sentence should not be prenounced upon you?"

"I didn't leave town because of any act of mineduring the Lexow investigation. I went away in broad daylight. Oh, Judge, I beg of you, don't send me to prison. My food, don't put me back in that horrible place?" exclaimed the prisoner, sobbing hysterically.

"We have given this case careful consideration. This woman is an old offender. The judgment of the Court is that you shall pay a fine of $500.

At this point the woman brightened perceptibly and felt for her purse, while Lawyer Wise looked hopeful.

"And," continued Justice Hinsdale, "be confined in the City Prison for thirty days."

"Oh, my God!," exclaimed the woman desparinely, as she was led away to the Tombs by an officer.

Lucy McCarthy appeared before the Grand Jury in January, 1894, under the direction of former Supt. Byrnes, and made charges against Lawyer John C. Munzinger, Civil Service Examiner Henry W. Heardsley, and Conrad M. Smyth, formerly clerk in the Yorkville Police Court. She accused them of having blackmailed her out of $3,000 on the plen that they would have a case against her dismissed. The January tirand Jury failed to indict, but indictments were returned later. The cases have been tried.

The "Veteran Preference" Act to Be Test-ed in Massachusetts,

Bosrox, July 23.—The constitutionality of the 'Soldiers' Preference Act," so called, is to be tested. To-day in the Supreme Court Judge Allen was presented with a petition brought by Frederick W. Brown against Charles T. Russell, Jr., et al., Civil Service Commissioners, for a writ of mandamus to command them to restore him his full rights and privileges as a public competitor for the position of detective on the state police force, found, after an examination by them, to be eligible for that position. It is alleged that the Commissioners, unlawfully and in violation of the constitutional rights of thrown, gave a preference for certification and appointment to Edward D. THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION Going to Be a Big Affair, Our Commissloners Say. The New York State Commissioners to the Cotton States and the Atlanta Exposition met at 38 West Thirtieth street yesterday afternoon Their principal business was the examining of plans for a State building. Another meeting will be held to-day (Wednesday) at 2 o'clock, when the successful plan will probably be agreed upon. It was decided to expend $12,000 of the $25,000 appropriation on the building. A prize of $100 was also offered for the best design for a model home for workingmen, the cost not to exceed $700. All the designs submitted will be exhibited on the walls of the home which is to be erected on the Fair grounds. After the meeting Secretary Wheeler said that and that unless she stirred herself she would lose much of her Southern trade. He gave out the following statement:

The New York Commissioners to the Atlanta Exposition desire to impress the manufacturers and merchants of New York State facturers and merchants of New York State with the fact that it will without doubt surpass any previous exhibition in this country excepting the World's Fair at Chicaso.

"A committee from this Commission has just returned from Atlanta and report that they were surprised and gratified at the magnitude of the grounds, buildings, and the preparations already made.

"The Commissioners regret to learn, however, that other States are surpassing New York in the matter of exhibits. State committees said delegations of business men from other cities have made and are still making visits to Atlanta, evidently with a view of securing the trade of the South through their exhibits. We feel it our duty as old New Yorkers to call your attention to this, that all interested may be prepared to resist these powerful and united efforts, which must necessarily result in great injury to our Southern trade unless promptly met and ouercome."

CAUSE OF THE CHINESE RIOTS.

Medical Missionary Was Accused of Killing a Native Woman Patient. The first letter to reach this country from the province in which the city of Chen-tu, in China, is situated has just been received by the Rev. Dr. S. L. Baldwin. Recording Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Mrs. W. E. Manly, a missionary in Chung-king, the nearest station to Chen-tu, thus writes, under date of June 1 last, giving the alleged cause of the riots in Chen-tu as excitement resulting from the death of a native woman who had been attended by one of the medical missionaries:

"Trouble again in west China! The telegraph has probably already informed you of the graph has probably already informed you of the riot and destruction of property in Chen-tu. Our first news came on the 20th (of May), stating that the Canadian Methodist property had been burned in a riot the preceding day, and that their personal effects had been looted. Vesterdny another message came saving that all the Protestants were hiding at the officials yamen, and that the Catholic premises were also burned. All are in great danger. This has been most startling and unexpected news.

"We have heard only one hint as to the immediate cause of the riot. One of the physicians of the Canadian Methodists was called to attend a sick woman. She soon afterward died and he was accused of having killed her. In their present condition the monitors would take months to fit up for action, and they have cost the Government large sums of money to keep them even in their present condition of dissibility. Protests have recently been made against their removal from Richmond, but Secretary of the Navy Herbert, after fully considering the matter, has announced that they must be brought to Leugue Island, where they can be economically kept in repair and held in readiness for an emergency instead of being maintained useissly where they are.

There are six monitors in the James River, all of them of the low freeboard, single turret type, and the building of all was authorized by the same year. The Alax, built by Snowden & Mason of Pittsburgh, is 225 feet in length, 43.8 feet broad, and has a displacement of 2,100 tons. She cost $6,20,562 to build.

The Canonicus, a sister slip, having the same measurements, was built by Harrison Loring in Boston, at a cost of $622,562. The Calekill and Lehigh were built by John Ericsson himself, the former in Brooklyn, N. Y., the latter in Chester, Pa. They have a length of 209 feet, a breadth of 46 feet, cost respectively $427,766 and $1,22,766, and have a displacement of 1,875 tons each.

TWO MEN AND TWO BEARS. An Exciting Situation Which Came Out All Right for the Men.

"Yes." continued McMurchy, "that was a great camp hunt. There were four of us went into the Medicine Bow Mountains one fall, fitted out for a month's stay, or until the snow get so bad as to drive us out. We'd had a pretty od run of luck, for inside of a week we hung up four fine elks and could have killed more, only it was not necessary; your true sportsman kills only his for needs. During our tramp for elk we found considerable signs of bear, and once I we found considerable signs of bear, and once I saw a big chap clear across a cañon, a quarter of a mile away. This made me think I d like to add a cinnamon or a silver tipto my score. One afternoon, being higher up in the mountains than at any time previously, I discovered signs of sheep. This drove all idea of bears and elks out of my head, so the next morning, fitting out for a two days' tramp, the guide and myself started for sheep. I wound a light, strong larginary around my waist, a very handy too! in the mountains sometimes, and certainly it was so on this trip.

It was a mighty rough piece of ground, immense boulders, the size of a church, lay around thick; then there were ravines and climb up. Pretty well winded we arrived at the top of one of these great riage. I rused the sights for 250 yards, and, holding fine on the base of the throat of the minute heave the tedge of the rock, pressed the trigger. Three sheep turned and fled out of sight in an instant, but one lay kicking and dving on the rock, and he continued to kick until he kicked himself clear over and pitched down 150 feet or more.

"Well, as it seemed easier to get down in that rock-ribbed vailey at that point where the sheep had been, we made our way around there with no little difficulty, and looking over saw the game lying there quite still. The guide examined the situation and saw that if the hinting tops was long enough it would reach a sort of offset composed of rock and some loose soil on which there was a stunted fir tree, and from that point he could reach the sheep, dress it, and I could haul it up.

"That part of the tournament worked beautifully as far as it went. I hitched the rope to a small tree that stood conveniently hear, and the guide went down, hand over hand, like an expert fire-escape man, and soon was at work dressing the sheep. Pamous Relies of the Rebellion and What Is to Be Done with Them.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Those relies of the civil war, the single turreted monitors that have been rusting to pieces in the James River near Richmond, are to be brought to the League Island Navy Yard early in July, and an attempt will be made to restore them to something like their original condition. Every one of them has seen active service, and their sides are full of the dents made by rebel shot and shell. Time and environment have been even harder on them than the Confederate guns, for the sait water has corroaded their bottoms, and the rust has eaten into their plates, several attempts to have the old lighting ships removed to frush water have been frustrated by the influence of Virginia politicians, who saw in their removal a loss of power, as they furnished employment for many laborars and watchmen. "All this time the rope was being tugged and pulled, and we were swaying back and forth, two mighty anxious men. Again came a lift, and we neared the top by ten feet more. Again and again, and still once more came that mighty haul on the lariat, and we could almost touch the roots of the tree to which it was fastened. We could see where it was tied, but it reached back from the tree where it was impled around the hear, and he was now out of sight.

"The hauling and tugging ceased. A heartbreaking minute passed. Then the guide sand: We've got to get out of this, or off of this, pretty blained soon; this rope ain't goin't to hold a matter of 350 tounds, dead weight, forever, and it will be dead weight, sure, if wedrop down on that bear. Climb up on my shoulders and take a look at things." Cantiously raising myself to that position, I at once had a good view of the ground. A glance showed the bear completely wound up in the lariat, the last turns around his neck; there was blood spattered and rubbed on the rocks; he was perfectly still, seemingly dead. My riffe lay between the bear and myself, considerably to the left. It seemed a desperate thing to do, but I must have that riffe, traaping the roots of the tree leasily raised myself over the edge of the diff and crawled toward the gam, and in a moment more grasped it. THREAD CITY BANK WRECK.

TREASURER WALDEN'S FLIGHT FOLLOWED BY W. G. MORRISON'S.

Walden Had Used the Bank Funds in Transactions with the Morrison Com-pany His Insurance Agency Affairs Also Mixed Up—The Bank Closes Its Doors. HARTYORD, July 23.—The collapse of the Dime

Savings Bank of Willimantic leaves no financial institution of five years' standing in the thread city which has not been looted by its trusted officers, the deposits scaled, or the stockholders assessed. Nearly or quite a million dollars of the people's money has vanished, and so far no man has paid the penalty of his misdeeds. This is the statement of State's Attorney John Hunter, who further says he will leave no stone un turned to bring to justice every man responsible for the bank wrecks.

In carrying out this colley the State's Attorncy this morning made application to the Superior Court for an injunction restraining the savings bank officials from transacting business, revoking the charter of the bank, and for an order for the sale of the property. The court granted the injunction and appointed Saturday next at 11 o'clock as the time for a hearing.

The greatest confusion exists in the bank, The missing treasurer, John L. Walden, it is alleged, either destroyed the cash book or took it with him. Other books are mutilated, whole pages being torn out, and a large part of the mortgages have absolutely no endorsement of payments or interest. The amount of Walden's defalcation cannot be determined until the 3,000 pass books are called in and compared with the individual depositors' accounts.

A sensation was created this morning when it was announced that in State Bank Examiner Crofut's statement showing a deficit of $4,447 in the cash of the bank, he admitted having known of this deficit since his examination of the affairs of the bank of July 11.

Treasurer Walden, when asked for an explanation, said that he had used the money to purchase machinery which was necessary complete bank a deal. There was no entry the books to show that it had been used for t purpose alleged, and it appears that the ba-was unsecured.

purpose alleged, and it appears that the bank was unsecured.

Hank Examiner Crofut gave the treasurer one week in which to make good the deficit. In the mean time it was learned that Walden's machinery deal had been made with the W. G. & A. R. Morrison Company, who were heavily involved in the indiure of the First National Bank, and of whose paper the Dime Savings Bank holds $28,000, and that the machinery had been purchased for $4.447.

W. G. Morrison of the Morrison Machine Company has been missing since Sunday. The Morrison company recently went into the hands or a trustee, and when the property was sold at public auction it was purchased by Attorney or a trustee, and when the property was soid at public auction it was purchased by Attorney Thomas J. Keiley.

At an informal meeting of the directors of the bank to-day Mr. Keiley said that he acted as agent for Walden in the purchase of $4,400 worth of machinery which he soid to Sutton & Bain of Allentown, Fa., for $9,800, receiving $2,000 in cash and the bainner to be paid in monthly itstallments of $500. He assumed that the transaction was for the line Savings lank. The above transaction accounts for the $4,400 defict in cash.

Yesterday Morrison's foreman received a letter from the missing merchant postmarked Philadelphia. Lawyers E. B. Summer and Thomas J. Kelley left to-might for Allentown to look after the machinery transaction.

It was stated to a press representative to-night by good authority that several sensational arrests would probably be made during the next twenty-four hours. The missing treasurer, Walden, and his father had built up an extensive fire insurance agency.

Representatives of several of the companies from New York and Boston were in town to-day examining their accounts. Their insurance books are in as fad condition as the books of the bank. It is supposed that most of the missing money was invested in the Morrisou Machine Company. Company.

It has been learned to-day that $10,000 of Staten Isa d Railread lends which were in the bank at the examination made June 13 were missing at the examination on July 11 and have not been seen since.

is in the habit of buying Ripans Tabules at White's pharmacy at Selms. When interviewed at the time of a recent purchase Mr. Johns said: "Ever since I was in the army, where I contracted indigestion and dyspensia from eating 'hard tack and sow belly,' I have suffered much from those and kindred ailments. A son of mine, who clerks for J. N. Harter, in a drug store at Winfield, Kansas, told me, while home on a visit, over a year ago, to get a box of Ripans Tabules and take them. I did, and in a very short time I was benefited, and by the time they were half gone I was well, and since then I have felt better, ate more and relished it better than at any time since the war, and am doing more work now than I ever expected to do again. I tell you, they are the greatest medicine for a fellow's stomach I ever saw. This box is for a neighbor of mine out by me in the country. We always have them at home, and I never hesitate to recommend them when a fellow complains about his stomach hurting him."

(Signed) R. L. JOHNS. Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists, or by mall if the price (50 cents a box) is sent to The Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce st., New York. Sample vial, 10 cents.

MISSING MAN FOUND IN PRISON. Everard Says that He Was Driven to Crime by Privation.

John Everard, a slik weaver, of 721 Ann street. West Hoboken, left home in October to look for work and did not return. His disappearance was reported to the police, and the morgues, hospitals, and asylums in this and other cities were searched, but no trace of him could be found.

Several days ago Mrs. Everard heard that her husband had been arrested in Elizabeth for robbing a store and had been sent to State prison for seven years. Mrs. Everard communicated with her husband, and he wrote that he had been driven to desperation by hunger and his inability to get work, and that he had committed burglary. He had determined not to let his family know of his disgrace and had made no defence. An effort will be made to secure Everard's pardon.
